

UN chief António Guterres visits Sun Temple in Modhera

António Guterres

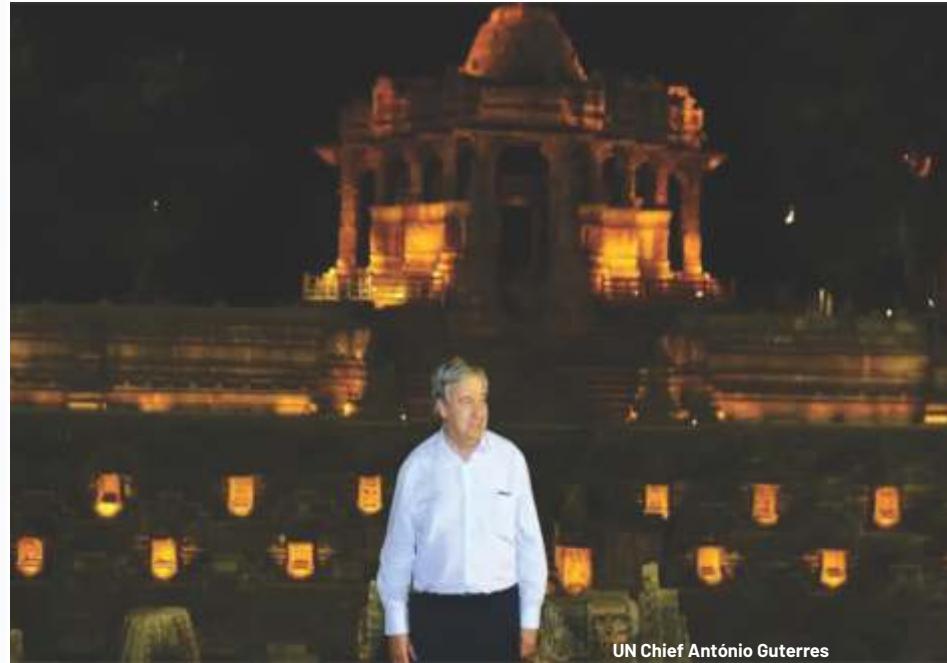

I was happy to meet the community of the first village in India to have round the clock solar energy.

Renewable energy is the answer to limiting climate disruption and boosting energy security.

3:28 AM · Oct 21, 2022 · Twitter Web App

1,280 Retweets 65 Quote Tweets 5,522 Likes

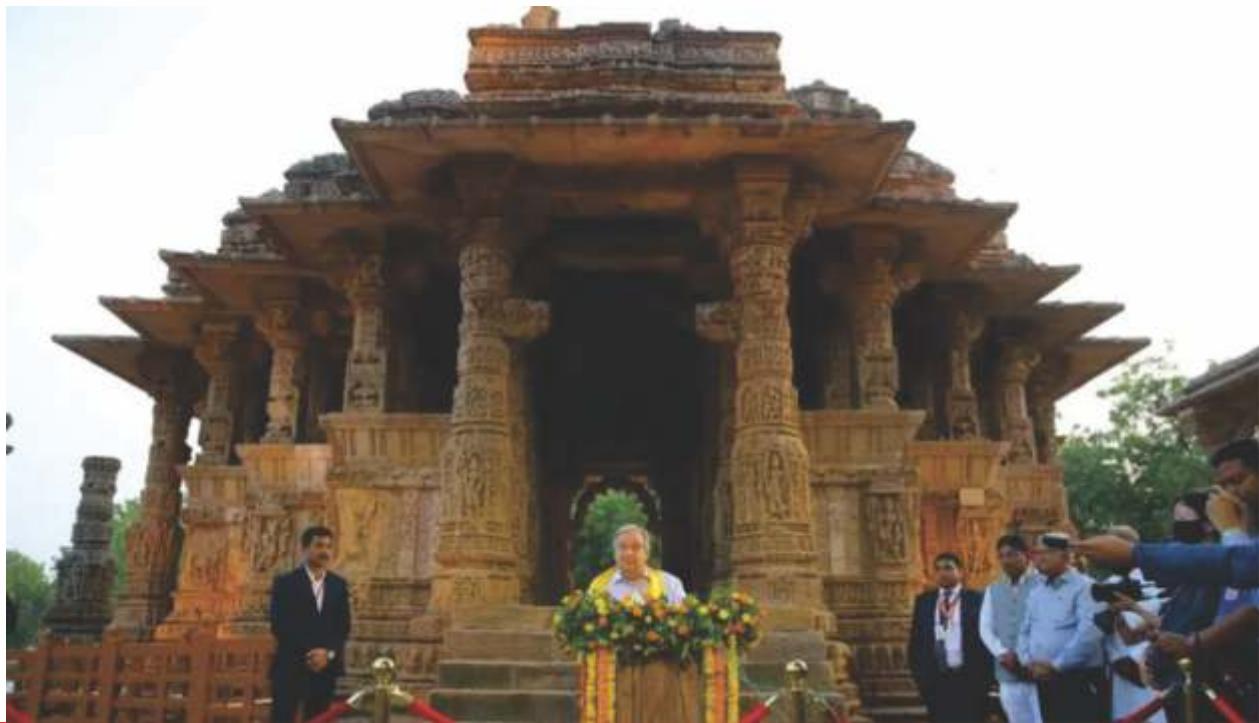

UN Chief António Guterres

"I was happy to meet the community of the first village in India to have round the clock solar energy."

Renewable energy is the answer to limiting climate disruption and boosting energy security."

The UN Secretary-General expressed his appreciation for India's ambitious initiatives in the area of climate action, particularly through the launch of Mission LiFE.

UN Chief Visits Modhera Sun Temple In Gujarat After Launching Key Development Initiatives

I was happy to meet the community of the first village in India to have round the clock solar energy.

Renewable energy is the answer to limiting climate disruption and boosting energy security.

Modhera (Gujarat) [India], October 20 (ANI): United Nations Secretary-General Antonio Guterres visited Sun Temple in Modhera, Gujarat on Thursday, as part of his three day trip to India.

Modhera is famous for solar electricity. Here, villagers get electricity round the clock without any cost. The UN Secretary-General expressed his appreciation for India's ambitious initiatives in the area of climate action, particularly through the launch of Mission LiFE.